

Church and Small Group Speaker Topics

Is your church or small group looking for someone to help you connect with the plight and promise of women and girls? She Is Safe has been working to rescue and restore women and girls from abuse and exploitation for over ten years. Our SIS staff stands ready to serve you by equipping people on the issues of human trafficking, economic empowerment and discipleship.

A Voice for the Voiceless: Raising Advocates for Enslaved Women and Girls

Those who dare not speak for themselves need advocates. Advocacy is an essential component in the work of freeing and empowering the world's oppressed. SIS can help you mobilize passionate, informed advocates to multiply more men, women, and children who raise awareness and prayer to fuel interventions that rescue and restore more women and girls. In this presentation, we will offer practical action steps and support for advocates.

Love beyond Loans: How Holistic Ministry Frees Generations from Poverty

Research is showing that micro-loans alone are not effective at breaking the cycles of poverty. In this presentation you'll learn a groundbreaking technique that cuts at the roots of powerlessness and poverty. Drawing from our experience with over 40,000 women, we will showcase a community-centered, holistic approach that empowers women, effectively preventing abuse and exploitation for generations.

Kingdom Come: Good News for the World's Abused and Exploited Women

When women and girls learn that they are loved, valued, and treasured by God it changes the course of their lives. When their families and the people in their villages learn that, it changes generations. How can we get the gospel to the world's abused and exploited? You will gain answers to that question from the firsthand stories of witness and courage of women and girls around the world. And you will gain lessons of how discipleship can fuel transformation, and how holistic work opens doors for the gospel across the street and around the world.

Prevent, Rescue and Restore: Proven Strategies to Address Human Trafficking

When traffickers promise to provide work for a young girl in the city or offer her family cash, she will most likely be sold into slavery and smuggled into a brothel. Learn how you can join in to prevent human trafficking. We'll share best practices that restore victims of trafficking. SIS speaks from the trenches of modern-day slavery, and you will walk away with working models, action steps and redemption stories from some of the world's hardest places.

Women in Muslim Lands: Reaching Muslim Communities through Women

Women hold unique potential to transform their families, communities, and nations. However, they are often overlooked in ministry efforts among Muslim peoples. What is life really like for these women? And how can we embrace them with God's love? She Is Safe shares stories of God's work among women and girls in communities where Islam is the dominant religion, and offers ways that churches can begin reaching these pivotal lives in Muslim nations.
